

Have you got a civil engineering
degree?
Find out more.

Junior construction engineer

Monitors that construction activities are carried out according to budget and project schedule, bringing to attention any deviations and proposing appropriate solutions. Also defines the construction plan, the sequence of activities and the methodologies. Operates in a professional context that focuses on human capital as a key element for business development.

Junior reservoir engineer

Evaluates innovative approaches and techniques in reservoir digital modelling, developing codes and simulation platforms. Specifically, scouts alternative physical and numerical digital solutions for the optimization of reservoir management plans. Their professional contribution is fundamental for the development of a new and more innovative Eni.

Junior drilling engineer

Plans and engineers drilling operations, preparing programs that include all information specified in the procedures. Works within interdisciplinary teams and interfaces with an international reality where diversity has always been considered an added value.

