

Have you got a political sciences degree?
Find out more.

Cyber intelligence & security analyst

Analyzes and monitors cyber threats, identifying threats for the energy sector and assessing the potential impact they could have on the business perimeter. Also ensures timely sharing of intelligence reports and any countermeasures to be taken, playing a strategic role for the future of the company in collaboration with their team.

Public affairs & international relations analyst

Contributes to the definition of institutional relations strategies and identifies development elements for Eni's positioning and reputation. Within the framework of established policies, ensures the development and management of relations with relevant institutions, in order to monitor emerging trends on issues of interest to Eni. Shares their professionalism with a dynamic and multicultural work team.

Junior sustainability analyst

Monitors the evolution of the sustainability context and identifies the most relevant issues to promote the initiatives to be implemented. Verifies the process of definition, development and implementation of the plan of initiatives for the territory, consistent with the CEO's guidelines and business objectives as well as adherence to the needs of the communities and territories concerned. Operates in an international context.

